The Journal of General Psychology, 119(4), 427–430

Index to Volume 119

This annual index is organized by first author and by title. Page numbers refer to the following issues:

Number 1 (January): 1–100
Number 2 (April): 101–212
Number 3 (July): 213–320
Number 4 (October): 321–432

AUTHOR INDEX

Allen, J. Hypermnesia using auditory input. 289–294.

Bailey, W. T., Less, E. A., & Harrell, D. R. The Attitudes Toward Women Scale (AWS) and global attitudes toward women. 315–317.

Beech, J. R. Adaptation of writing to orthographic change. 169–179.

Benoit, S. C., & Thomas, R. L. The influence of expectancy in subliminal perception experiments. 335–341.

Borresen, C. R., & Klingsporn, M. J. Some perceptual and cognitive factors in mirror tracing: Their limits. 365–384.

Breznitz, Z. Verbal indicators of depression. 351–363.

Chastain, G. Time-course of sensitivity changes as attention shifts to an unpredictable location. 105–111.

Davis, F. D., & Warshaw, P. R. What do intention scales measure? 391–407.

Dobson, M., & Markham, R. Individual differences in anxiety level and eyewitness memory. 343–350.

Dwivedi, C. B. Induced arousal and orienting tasks as determinants of intentional recall. 265–277.

Foos, P. W. Constructing schemata while reading simple stories. 419–425.

Goernert, P. N. The antecedents of retrieval inhibition. 237–245.

Green, K. E., & Kluever, R. C. Components of item difficulty of Raven's Matrices. 189–199.

Huang, I-N., Krukar, J. D., & Miles, S. P. Effects of reinforcement schedules on rats' choice behavior in extinction. 201–211.

Lehman, E. B., Bovasso, M., Grout, L. A., & Happ, L. K. Orienting task effects on memory for presentation modality in children, young adults, and older adults. 15–27.

Lloyd, J., & McKelvie, S. J. Effects of spatial disruptions on reading speed for fast and slow readers. 229–235.

Mandal, M. K., Pandey, R., & Madan, S. K. Exposed eye area (EEA) in the expression of various emotions. 385–389.

McKelvie, S. J. Does memory contaminate test–retest reliability? 59–72.

Milgram, N., Dangour, W., & Raviv, A. Situational and personal determinants of academic procrastinaton. 123–133.

Otani, H. The effect of word frequency on recognition of a long word list. 181–187.

Perry, A. R., & Laurie, C. A. Sustained attention and the Type A be- havior pattern: The effect of daydreaming on performance. 217–228.

Pulos, S. Adults' understanding of conservation of horizontality. 99–100.
Rantzen, A., & Markham, R. The reversed eyewitness testimony design: More evidence for source monitoring. 37–43.
Reinhardt-Rutland, A. H. Changing-loudness aftereffect following simulated movement: Implications for channel hypotheses concerning sound level change and movement. 113–121.
Reinhardt-Rutland, A. H. Primary depth cues and background pattern in the portrayal of slant. 29–35.
Seifert, L. S. Pictures as a means of conveying information. 279–287.
Sharps, M. J., & Price, J. L. Auditory imagery and free recall. 81–87.
Sheehan, K. R., & Gray, M. W. Sex bias in the SAT and the DTMS. 5–14.
Sugar, J. A., Viney, W., & Rohe, J. A comparison of contemporary and historical conservatism. 89–97.
Super, J. T., & Block, J. R. Self-concept and need for achievement of men with physical disabilities. 73–80.
Tirre, W. C. Can reading ability be measured with tests of memory and processing speed? 141–160.
Togo, D. F., & Hood, J. N. Quantitative information presentation and gender: An interaction effect. 161–167.
Turner, M. L., Johnson, S. K., McNamara, D. S., & Engle, R. W. Effects of same-modality interference on immediate serial recall of auditory and visual information. 247–263.
Weaver, K. A., & McNeill, A. N. Null effect of mood as a semantic prime. 295–301.
Webb, J. M., Thornton, N. E., Hancock, T. E., & McCarthy, M. T. Drawing maps from text: A test of conjoint retention. 303–313.
Weiler, E. M., Gold, L. S., Sandman, D. E., & Warm, J. S. Four triggering factors in loudness adaptation. 325–334.
Young, L. D., & Allin, J. M., Jr. Repression–sensitization differences in recovery from learned helplessness. 135–139.
Zalewski, L. J., Sink, C. A., & Yachimowicz, D. J. Using cerebral dominance for education programs. 45–57.
Zimmerman, D. W., & Zumbo, B. D. Increasing the power of tests of location and correlation by transforming scores to ranks and indicators. 409–418.

TITLE INDEX

Adaptation of writing to orthographic change. John R. Beech. 169–179.
Adults' understanding of conservation of horizontality. Steven Pulos. 99–100.
The antecedents of retrieval inhibition. Phillip N. Goernert. 237–245.
The Attitudes Toward Women Scale (AWS) and global attitudes toward women. William T. Bailey, Elizabeth A. Less, & Diane R. Harrell. 315–317.
Auditory imagery and free recall. Matthew J. Sharps & Jana L. Price. 81–87.
Can reading ability be measured with tests of memory and processing speed? William C. Tirre. 141–160.
Changing-loudness aftereffect following simulated movement: Implications for channel hypotheses concerning sound level change and movement. A. H. Reinhardt-Rutland. 113–121.
A comparison of contemporary and historical conservatism. Judith A. Sugar, Wayne Viney, & Janel Rohe. 89–97.

Components of item difficulty of Raven's Matrices. Kathy E. Green & Raymond C. Kluever. 189–199.
Constructing schemata while reading simple stories. Paul W. Foos. 419–425.
Does memory contaminate test–retest reliability? Stuart J. McKelvie. 59–72.
Drawing maps from text: A test of conjoint retention. James M. Webb, Nancy E. Thornton, Thomas E. Hancock, & Michael T. McCarthy. 303–313.
The effect of word frequency on recognition of a long word list. Hajime Otani. 181–187.
Effects of reinforcement schedules on rats' choice behavior in extinction. I-Ning Huang, Jeffery D. Krukar, & Shawn P. Miles. 201–211.
Effects of same-modality interference on immediate serial recall of auditory and visual information. Marilyn L. Turner, Stephen K. Johnson, Danielle S. McNamara, & Randall W. Engle. 247–263.
Effects of spatial disruptions on reading speed for fast and slow readers. Jennifer Lloyd & Stuart J. McKelvie. 229–235.
Exposed eye area (EEA) in the expression of various emotions. Manas K. Mandal, Rakesh Pandey, & Sanjay K. Madan. 385–389.
Four triggering factors in loudness adaptation. Ernest M. Weiler, Laurie Smith Gold, David E. Sandman, & Joel S. Warm. 325–334.
Hypermnesia using auditory input. Jeffery Allen. 289–294.
Increasing the power of tests of location and correlation by transforming scores to ranks and indicators. Donald W. Zimmerman & Bruno D. Zumbo. 409–418.
Individual differences in anxiety level and eyewitness memory. Matthew Dobson & Roslyn Markham. 343–350.
Induced arousal and orienting tasks as determinants of intentional recall. C. B. Dwivedi. 265–277.
The influence of expectancy in subliminal perception experiments. Stephen C. Benoit & Roger L. Thomas. 335–341.
Null effect of mood as a semantic prime. Kenneth A. Weaver & Amy N. McNeill. 295–301.
Orienting task effects on memory for presentation modality in children, young adults, and other adults. Elyse Brauch Lehman, Margaret Bovasso, Leslie A. Grout, & Lisa K. Happ. 15–27.
Pictures as a means of conveying information. Lauren Sue Seifert. 279–287.
Primary depth cues and background pattern in the portrayal of slant. A. H. Reinhardt-Rutland. 29–35.
Quantitative information presentation and gender: An interaction effect. Dennis F. Togo & Jacqueline N. Hood. 161–167.
Repression–sensitization differences in recovery from learned helplessness. Larry D. Young & John M. Allin, Jr. 135–139.
The reversed eyewitness testimony design: More evidence for source monitoring. Andy Rantzen & Roslyn Markham. 37–43.
Self-concept and need for achievement of men with physical disabilities. John T. Super & J. R. Block. 73–80.
Sex bias in the SAT and the DTMS. Kate R. Sheehan & Mary W. Gray. 5–14.
Situational and personal determinants of academic procrastination. Norman A. Milgram, Weizman Dangour, & Amiram Raviv. 123–133.
Some perceptual and cognitive factors in mirror tracing: Their limits. C. R. Borresen & M. J. Klingsporn. 365–384.
Sustained attention and the Type A behavior pattern: The effect of daydreaming on performance. Anthony R. Perry & Cynthia A. Laurie. 217–228.

Time-course of sensitivity changes as attention shifts to an unpredictable location. Garvin Chastain. 105–111.
Using cerebral dominance for edution programs. Leon J. Zalewski, Christopher A. Sink, & David J. Yachimowicz. 45–57.
Verbal indicators of depression. Zvia Breznitz. 351–363.
What do intention scales measure? Fred D. Davis & Paul R. Warshaw. 391–407.
